PLAIN TALK IN THE MAYOR'S OFFICE. MR. BOODY AND CITIZENS COMPLAINING ABOUT

NEWTOWN CREEK HAVE A LIVELY MEETING. Mayor Boody was visited by about 100 prominent adents of uptown and Eastern District wards yes terday who have been active in the effort to rid the city of the bid smells which have their source along Newtown Creek, and some plain talk was indulged in. The Rev. E. K. Cressey, of the Ainsile Street Baptist Church, said the edors from the factories complained of turned signs of door-plates blue and discolored newly painted houses. His threat had been made so sore by em that his physician had directed him not to preach Many deaths, he believed, were hastened by the nuisances. Some of the factories supposed to be closed were in operation. Alvin T. Walsh said that the peole demanded the immediate suppression of the ulsances and that the action of the city's authorities in permitting them to continue operation in any form bordered on the unlawful. "If you do not do what right and lawful, the spirit of the citizens is such that at the next election they will put some one in office who will," added the speaker. The Mayor said that while he recognized the sincerity of these present he believed that they had allowed themselves to be deceived. The city authorities had only one purpose and that was to rid the All except one had agreed to region of all nuisances. move. It was impossible to wipe them out at once. The city also proposed to stop the emptying of sewers In the creek. He then asked if his visitors wanted order the Peter Cooper Glue Factory to close of once, and the Rev. Mr. Cressey said he did.

That would only create a greater nulsance at once. tese places take the city offal. It seems to me that s something more behind this," said the Mayor. Mr. Walsh assured him that there were no politics matter and all that was wanted was assurance that the Mayor would do his duty. To this Mr. Boody replied: "I may as well tell you that I intend to do my duty faithfully and no threats which may be made can compel me to do more." He refused to give a direct answer as to whether he had the power to close the factories and could exert it, saying diplomatically: "Consideration must be given to men engaged in business on the creek as well as to other citizens,"

THE INSTITUTE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES.

The fourth Yearbook of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, containing the constitution and bylaws, the names of the officers and members, a history of the institute and other interesting information, has just been issued. It makes a volume of 278 pages. Lighty-three pages are occupied by the names of the members of the Institute, and ninety pages by the description of the work of the twenty-five departments. The officers of the board of trustees are: John B. Woodward, president; the Rev. Dr. Eichard S. Storrs, James S. T. Stranahan and Edwin Reers, vicepresidents; Professor Franklin W. Hooper, director; Engene G. Blackford, treasurer, and Professor Robert Foster, secretary. In the last year 632 new member re received, and the number of lectures and meetings by the departments was increased from 310 to 405. In the same time $16,000 were subscribed to the endowment fund of the institute, making the total fund $206,906, or $6,906 in excess of the amount required by law before the Museum Building cap be erected. The city officials have set apart a fine site on the apart side lands near Prospect Park for the building, and steps are now being taken to secure plans for the Brief accounts are given in the book of the summer schools of art in the Adirondacks, and the Shipnecock Hills; of the Biological Laboratory and of the schools of political science and architecture.
